What were the Fund’s costs for the last year?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Investor	$148	1.45%

How did the Fund perform during the reporting period?

The CRM All Cap Value Fund, Investor Share Class (CRMEX) returned 3.71% for the 12 months end June 30th, 2025. The Primary (Regulatory Benchmark), the Russell 3000 Total Return Index returned 15.30% for the period and the Secondary (Performance Benchmark), the Russell 3000 Value Total Return Index (the “Index”), returned 13.30% for the period.

Against the Index, relative underperformance was attributed to the Fund’s portfolio holdings within the Industrials, Financials, Materials, and Consumer Discretionary sectors compared to the stocks included in those sectors in the Index. Conversely, the Fund’s portfolio holdings within the Health Care and Information Technology sectors were a tailwind to relative performance compared to the stocks included in those sectors in the Index. We continue to believe investing in companies that have strong management teams with the ability to effectively improve the returns of their businesses should drive compelling long-term returns over this and future cycles. We also believe investing in small and mid-cap stocks today provides the opportunity to generate inherently higher future potential returns, as this part of the market trades at an absolute valuation discount to its long-term average and at an extraordinary discount relative to large cap stocks.
